HERE AND THERE.

The other day the Humble Individual passed a crowd of little gamblers who were industriously matching men on a corner. Fortune, true but proverbially fickle character, died first on one lad and then on another, but at last chose as her victim the rugged, grimiest boy in the lot, and filled his hands with his spurs. Off he walked with his spurs, saying triumphantly to all it might concern: "This here old town is lookin' up. I've got ten cents out of it anyhow."

Public opinion, they say, is the opinion of the "masses," and the Humble Individual was fain to believe that in case the vox populi was correct—at the pretty old town of ours is looking up, although in ways of which Horatio had not dreamed this philosophy.

For the first thing there is a dance mania, given by Mrs. C. F. Harlan to her daughter, Miss Virginia, on Wednesday evening. Despite the seemingly disagreeable weather a large number of young people ventured out, and in this case the law of expediency held true, for the pleasure of the evening more than repaid.

Pink dominoes and masks actually concealed the identity of young girls, and the pretty and dexterous costume added greatly to the fun, although it was discarded in the dancing began. Among the young people from out of town were Mr. and Miss Tarr, Miss Weeks, Miss H. and F. Myers, Mr. Russell Howard, Mr. Love, Mr. Strong, Mr. H. C. White, of Montclair, Mr. Hurlbut of Hartford, Conn., who is the guest of Miss Helen Bliss, and Taylor of Orange.

The members of Miss Rouget's singing class are rejoicing in the prospect of a reception which they are to give on the twenty-first in Glen Ridge Hall.

Now that Easter has come and gone, perhaps we may begin to look for a real Spring—not one whose constant visit has to be overlooked, after Sunday left us nothing to compare with the large congregations in the churches testifying to our gratitude for sunny weather.

At Christ Church the vested choir sang for the first time and made a very pleasant impression on the many singers who wished to hear it. There was little to criticize and much praise, for the boys did bravely and are a credit to their training, under which they will doubtless improve.

There was good music to be heard in the other churches, more particularly at the evening services, but there was but little attempted in the line of vocal display.

Before we leave musical subjects altogether it will be well (for the benefit of those who are averse to stopping at shop windows to read announcements posted therein) to mention that next Wednesday evening a testimonial concert will be given for Mr. William C. Carl, in the First Presbyterian Church. Several of the musicians, whose names appear in the announcements have been heard in town before, and everything seems to promise success for the evening.

Mr. Louis Barrett, contrary to the item in last week's Citizen, is expected home from the South on Saturday.

The Humble Individual is reported to be found in error.

Mrs. Anna Wharton has left town for Dover, Del., where she will remain for two or three weeks, and Mrs. A. Palmer, and two sons from Philadelphia, will be for a short time the guests of Rev. and Mrs. George A. A.

One of the events of next week which promises enjoyment is the Glen Ridge Club entertainment to be given on Tuesday evening, April 15, when the members of the club will have the pleasure of hearing Mr. Herbert Ward, who was Henry M. Stanley's Lieutenant in the expedition for the relief of Emin Pasha.

Westminster people were very glad on Easter Sunday to welcome back Mrs. Duncan Kennedy who for several days was the guest of Mrs. W. H. Whits.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Lee, of Temple, have been visiting Mrs. H. B. Sheldon.

That seems to be all the bits of news which the village affords us this week, but to put up the pen without telling a little of the doings in the Daisy Settlement would be to make a great mistake, and although it be little likely, it may not be amiss to mention that the pleasant old fashion of a "surprise party" was revived on the first of April for the benefit of Miss Earle.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas have been neglecting Glen Ridge for Atlantic City lately, possibly being weary of a place where "the rats it raneth every day," as it does here.

Miss Farthing has been visiting her sister, Mrs. Arthur Little, and Miss Bessie Farthing is at home for the Spring recess, but beyond these bits of news, and the fact that Mr. Morgan, of Upper Montclair, has taken the house formerly occupied by Mr. R. W. White, the comings and goings of our neighbors on the hill have not been known to us "here below."

Merit Wins.

We desire to say to our citizens, that for years we have been selling Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption. Dr. King's New Discovery, Palisades Arms Salvage and Electric Light, have never handled remedies that sell as well. Our late experience has given us great satisfaction. We do not hesitate to guarantee them every time, and we stand ready to refund the money paid, if satisfactory results do not follow the use. These remedies have won great popularity purely on their merits. Geo. M. Wood Drugg.
